

Chanticleer Opens for the Season on March 27th

Photo courtesy of Chanticleer, taken by Lisa Roper

WAYNE, PA – Chanticleer’s gardeners and staff prepare for Wednesday, March 27th at 10:00am, when the garden opens to the public for its 26th season. Visitors are invited to stroll the gardens Wednesday through Sunday 10:00am – 5:00pm through November 3rd. The garden opens early at 8am on the first Saturday of each month from April through November and the garden remains open until 8pm on Fridays May through Labor Day.

House & Garden tours for individual guests are offered every Friday and Saturday at 11:00am, April through October. The $15 per person fee includes general admission ($10). Chanticleer staff teach classes on gardening topics, using the garden as the classroom. To view the full list, please visit <http://www.chanticleergarden.org/classes.html>.

Chanticleer and the Radnor Memorial Library present the 20th Annual Chanticleer Lecture. On March 31st at 2pm, Christopher Woods will speak about his new book, Gardenlust: A Botanical Tour of the World’s Best New Gardens. The talk will be held in the Windsor Room at the Radnor Memorial Library. Arrive early to secure a seat at this free program.

Chanticleer is a 35-acre pleasure garden featuring contemporary designs within an historic setting located 30 minutes west of Philadelphia. For more information and to plan your visit, please visit chanticleergarden.org.

Chanticleer Foundation, 786 Church Road, Wayne, PA 19087
T: (610) 687-4163, www.chanticleergarden.org